Telework: a european approach to protecting workers

At the following link you can read a Cristiano Cominotto's article where president of A.L. Assistenza Legale discuss the threats EU employees face from blurred work-life boundaries, extensive screen time, and a lack of social support in office environments.

The article was written for LINEE – The Lawyers International Network for Employees and Executives, A.L. Assistenza Legale is a member of the network.

Here the entire article